ACCUSED WIFE WON'T RELENT,

Even Though Davidow Takes Back What He Said About Her and a Pugitist. " I will not go back to live with that man, your Honor. He refused to support me and told me that he was sick of me and that I could get out. He doesn't mean it when he says he wants me to come back." While Mrs Frances Davidow was making this answer to a question put to her by Supreme Court Justice Giegerich, vesterday, her husband, Edward B. Davidow, a Harlem jeweller, was weeping floods of tears over his matrimonial troubles. Mrs. Davidow is suing him for a separation on the ground of cruelty and abandonmout, and her suit. was put on trial yesterday.

The Davidows were married in 1896 and have a six-year-old son. She returned from a trip to Germany last September, and shortly afterward they quarrelled and separated. Davidow told her he had heard strange tales of her doings with her sister in Europe and of attentions paid to her by a professional pugilist, who on the voyage home read novels to her and told her the story of his life.

She denied the charges he made against her in an affidavit.

"I do not love him any more," she said,
"and I will not return to him after those charges."
"Would it make any difference if he apolo-"Would it make any difference if he apologized for that?" asked Justice Giegerich.
"No, it would not," she replied angrily.
Mrs. Lillian B. Friedlander, Mrs. Davidow's sister, testified in her favor concerning their European trip and other incidents, and Davidow was called next.
The jeweller wept almost continually while he was in the witness chair. He said she had demaned $5,000 of him for a divorce.

divorce.

Davidow assured the Court that he had no complaint to make against his wife and that he withdrew all his charges, but he would never disgrace himself by giving her evidence for a divorce.

LOST THE FISH AND HIS WALLET. Contractor Marnell's Expensive Fishing Trip to Green Lake.

STRACUSE, June 12.-Contractor Thomas Marnell went fishing in Green Lake yesterday with a certificate in his pocket for $5,485. This had been given him by the $5,485. This had been given him by the city for work on a sewer, and its possession is necessary before he can draw the money. Suddenly he felt a bite and a monster fish was on his line. In the struggle to land his prize he fell overboard.

Dropping the pole he swam for the boat and made it in safety. A search of his clothing revealed the fact that he had dropped his wallet somewhere in the lake, and in it was his certificate. Comptroller Mack would not issue another certificate this morning and Marnell will have to await the action of the Common Council. Behe is badly worried.

TREE FALLS ON TROLLEY CAR. Passengers Escape Without Injury-Conductor's Clothing Torn.

The 50-foot ailanthus tree in front of 91 Concord street, Brooklyn, which had for many years been a landmark in the neighborhood, and which had not shown any outward signs of decay, fell with a loud crash about 7 o'clock yesterday morn-ing, just as an open trolley car of the Van-derbilt avenue line was passing the spot on its way to the bridge.

The tree struck the rear end of the car and also displaced the trolley feed wires. The rear hood of the car was cut off and part of the rear platform was wrecked. The seventy-odd passengers made a wild core whether the street and all econocide the car was cut off and part of the rear platform was wrecked. The conductor had his clothes badly torn by the branches of the tree and als got a few scratches.

Revertes Tunnel Crash Damage Verdict. The verdict of $40,000 which a Supreme Court jury awarded last January to Mrs. Elizabeth Fajardo against the New York Central Railroad as damages for the death of her husband. Theodore H., in the Park of her husband, Incodore II., in the Park avenue tunnel disaster was reversed yes-terday by the Appellate Division, and a new trial was ordered. The Appellate Division says that incompetent evidence concerning Fajardo's possible earning power was admitted.
